

KELLY D. CRAVEN

Kelly D. Craven is an Asst. Professor in the Plant Biology Division at The Samuel Roberts Noble Foundation. He received his Bachelor's degree in Zoology from Arizona State University, and his Master's and PhD degrees in Plant Pathology from the University of Kentucky. His current research interests include the enhancement of agronomic and bioenergy crops using symbiotic microbes and genes in signaling pathways regulating growth, development and apoptosis in fungi.